The Interior of Hall

LETTER FROM THE MINISTER.

My Dear Friends,

In presenting the first issue of our own parish magazine we have tried to make a Souvenir of the progress of the Church of Scotland in Corby.

"Beginnings" will recall to you the humble origins of our Kirk, until it was clear that the time had come to establish a proper Church Extension Charge.

My own induction was rapidly followed by the opening of the Church Hall, happy memories of which are recalled on the following pages.

We are justly proud of our great organisations, whose activities are recorded in full.

Finally, we have the record of more recent developments, and the prospect of what will be dear to most of us—our own Kirk.

As you will see, Corby has never lacked good friends. We have been greatly blessed with enthusiastic workers also. From 168 members at the first Communion we have risen in a year to over 500. Need I remind you that here is the manifestation of that watchword? "Attempt great things for God. Expect great things from God."

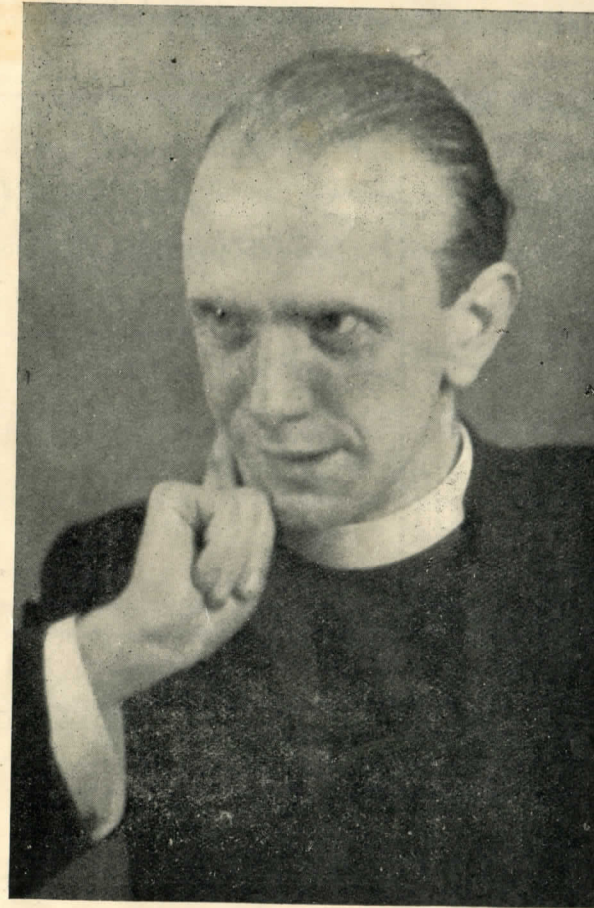

For myself and Mrs. Macdonald it has been a year of much happiness, and we are grateful to all who have supported us with their friendship and ready co-operation. It is not assuming the prophet's mantle to say that the Church is on the verge of great things. You must all have been aware of the new spirit that has been felt in the congregation: you must all see that we are laying foundations for future generations: and you must feel the Power of God working.

"History was made," said the Moderator at the Dedication. By the grace of God we are all having a hand in the making of it.

May I take this opportunity of welcoming new members to our fellowship, and of inviting others to come amongst us? I know all about the difficulties of Shift-work, 'lodgers' and the rest! But is it not just the case that many of you only need to make a start? Well, why not next Sunday?

We are always delighted to have visits from fellow-Scots in the district, and we shall be glad to keep them informed of our activities. Please make yourselves known to me when you come to Corby, and remember that here you will be among friends.

We send greetings to our friends in London and Scotland. We know that you often spare a kindly thought for this colony of your kith and kin. You have helped us greatly in the past and we need your support in all the tasks ahead of us.

With this introduction we make our bow. The Magazine (in its normal proportions) will be published monthly: minimum subscription, 2/- per annum, postage extra.

Yours sincerely,

A. D. MACDONALD.

"BEGINNINGS."

The whole country has been moved by the romance of industry connected with Stewarts and Lloyd's vast enterprise at Corby. In two years a quiet English village of 2,000 inhabitants has risen to a thriving township of about 10,000. New houses, roads, shops, Welfare Club, Cinema and schools have struggled into being, all dominated by the gigantic Iron and Steel Works that give them their life. The Churches of every denomination have been quick to realise their responsibilities in this area and the Church of Scotland was no laggard in this respect. With few advantages and quiet faith, the beginnings were made under the Rev. C. M. Macleroy. Let his letter to us on the Dedication of the Church Hall speak of his nine months' ministry:—

"To the Scots Congregation at Corby,

Dear Friends,

"We send you our heartiest greetings on this great occasion in your history, and we offer to your minister and to Mrs. Macdonald, our best wishes for success and happiness in their work amongst you.

"We feel sure that the Moderator's visit and benediction will bring you encouragement and inspiration. May we ask you to convey to him, and to the members of the London Presbytery who will be with you on your red-letter day, our respectful salutations?

"My year's ministry in Corby has left in my mind and heart a vivid and precious memory, which I shall cherish to the end of my days. Old Corby—the Parish Church, the Schoolhouse and the Jamb—the Works—the gaunt furnaces—the towering gas-holders, the vast buildings. New Corby, in the early days pushing out its ephemeral houses and its pretentious roadways even further through primeval mud and darkness—that is the background of the picture in my mind.

"Against that background appears the moving-picture of the beginnings of the Scots Kirk, linked up with memorable personal associations—the welcome and hospitality of the Rectory, the warm friendliness of the Church Army 'Lodge', the steadfast encouragement of the Schoolhouse. Better than anyone else I know the debt we all owe to these. I would fain pay a tribute to the pioneering activity and diplomatic skill of Dr. Archibald Fleming, which prepared the way for all that followed. Nor ought we to forget the initiative of Mr. McLeod of Belshill in calling our Church's attention to Corby, and the fatherly solicitude for your welfare of Mr. Dale of New Stevenston.

Personal Attention

"I like to recall that first Sunday of all, the First Day of July, 1934, when our good friend Mr. Carmichael marshalled the first congregation of fifteen, all told, for the Young People's Service in No. 3 Church Army Hut on Weldon Road. That Service, with its ever increasing attendance and interest, gave me the greatest joy.

"I can never forget the loyal assistance of the little group of young men who stood by me in those early days and helped me out in many an emergency.

"Some events of that memorable year stand out in memory—the visit of Dr. John White and the Reception by the London Presbytery, the Outing to Wicksteed Park, the enthusiastic start of the Women's Guild, the opening of the Primary, the Grand Excursion to Mr. Wilson's Farm at Oundle, the cutting of the first sod for the building of the Hall, and the Farewell Social, when you overwhelmed us with your generous kindness. It was indeed a memorable year, full of promise for the future, and our hope is, that all that promise may be fulfilled. The progress made since we left you, the Opening, and now the Dedication of the Hall, are the earnest of that fulfilment.

"We are sorry that we cannot be with you on this happy occasion. We are preparing to go to a quiet charge at Ardersier, Inverness-shire, where it will be a pleasure to see any of you who may pass that way.

Sgd. G. M. Macleroy.

On July 9th, 1935, the Church was formally made a Church Extension Charge and the Rev. A. D. Macdonald, M.A. inducted in Crown Court Church, London, for want of suitable premises at Corby. But the Hall was steadily rising and on October 16th nearly 300 Scots joined in an informal Service and Social within the new building. Enthusiastic reports were read from all the Organisations which had been formed in the past three months.

Care for the children had been our first concern and in the succeeding pages show we have in them and in the young people, not tens but hundreds, who will perpetuate what is best in Scottish character and worship.

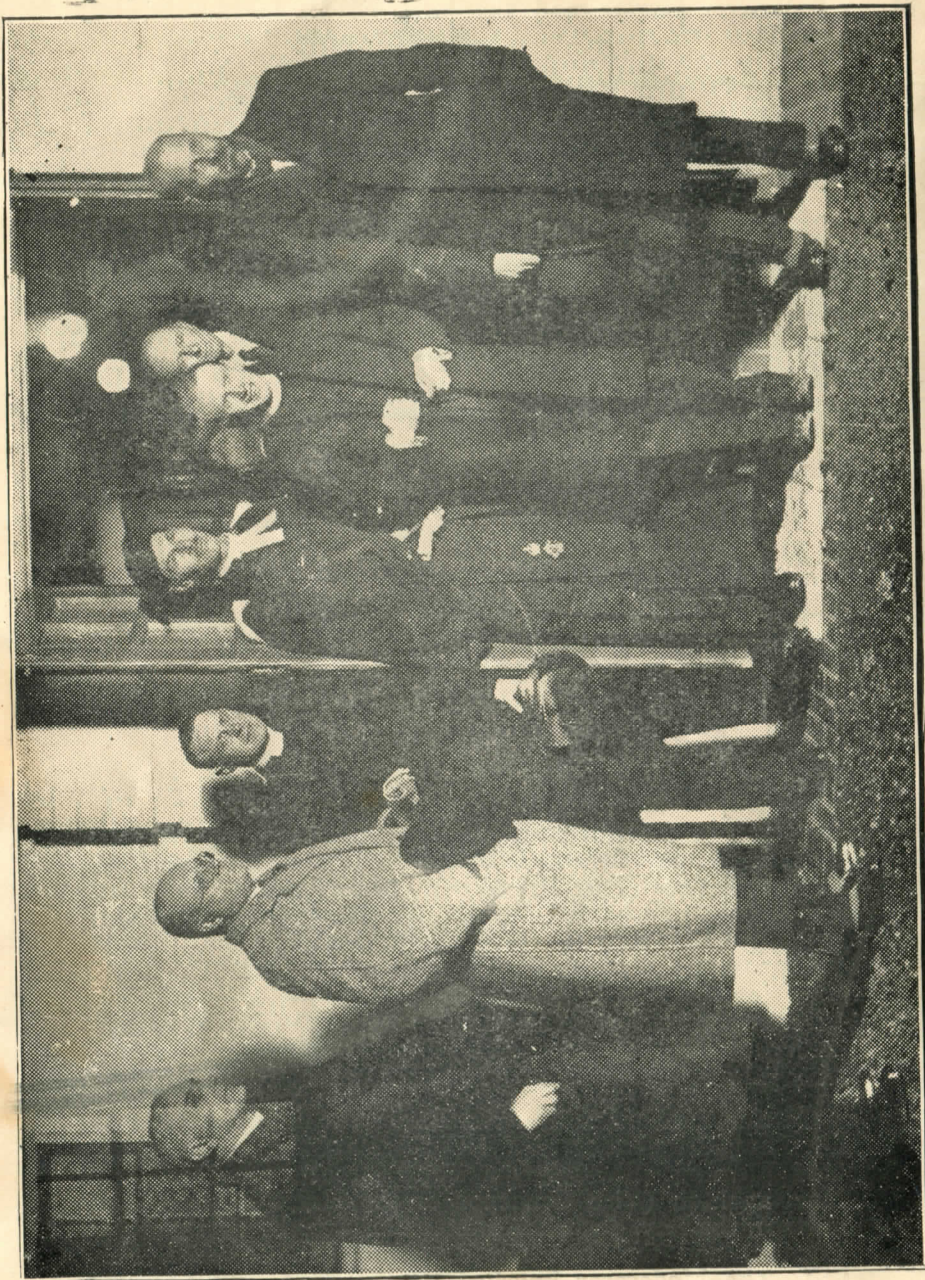

It was with deep thankfulness that we made our way to the Dedication of the Hall on December 16th.

THE DEDICATION SERVICE.

16th December, 1935.

A packed Kirk awaited the arrival of the Moderator on the evening of December 16th. The Church Hall, attractive in its design and lighting, was a tribute to Messrs. H. L. Anderson and D. B. Niven who gave their time and skill freely to the Church. Besides over 300 of the congregation, we had the Presbytery of London represented by Lord Aberdeen, the Rev. P. Mackenzie, the Rev. P. D. Hamilton, Messrs. J. Mitchell Thom, H. L. Anderson, J. D. Gibson, Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Gillan. Mr. H. J. Rhodes and Mr. J. Mitchell, directors, represented Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds. Ten members of the Northampton Scottish Association were led by Mr. D. P. Taylor, O.B.E., J.P., (President) and Mr. Cowper Barnes (Past President). The Kettering Caledonian Contingent was headed by Dr. J. Allison (Past President) and Mr. D. J. Bell (Secretary). Loughborough Caledonian Society was represented by Mr. Geo. Macbriar (President). The Rev. G. Brooke Westcott, Rector of Corby, and Mrs. Westcott, the Rev. Humphrey Williams (Corby Congregational Church), the Rev. G. Rabson (Durham), Mrs. J. Mitchell and Mrs. Ralph Wicksteed were amongst the guests.

Outside the Hall, which was floodlit for the occasion, stood Dr. Lang (Moderator of our General Assembly), Dr. Archibald Fleming (St. Columba Pont Street), the Rev. J. S. MacNaughton (Vice Convenor of the Home Mission Committee), the Rev. Joseph Moffett (Clerk to the Presbytery of London) and the Rev. Ian R. Gillan (St. Columba, Pont St.) The Moderator knocked on the door, was admitted, and presented with the key by our Minister who stood with the Kirk Session in the vestibule. A dignified procession to the Chancel ended with the Moderator placing the key on the Communion Table. A most impressive Service followed, simple, but worthy of the traditions of the Church of Scotland. In his address, Dr. Lang paid generous tribute to the support of the firm of Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds, the Presbytery of London, and the hospitality of the Church of England, and reminded us of some of the joys and responsibilities of 'singing the Lord's song in a strange land.'

The Social which followed was somewhat marred by the awkward time of trains and the icy state of the roads forcing many of our friends to hurry away. But great applause greeted the Rev. Ian R. Gillan after an impromptu speech, and messages which were read from the Presbytery of Mamliton, the Home Mission Committee, Dr. Macintosh (County Medical Officer of Health) and especially from the Rev. and Mrs. Macleroy who were unfortunately not able to be present.

Before leaving, the Moderator visited the Anglican Hall across the way where 200 of our children had been listening to a broadcast of the Service and enjoying a Social. Dr. Lang inspected the impressive parade of Boys' Brigade and Girls Guildry and left the children with an inspiring message.

It was a very memorable evening, filled with great hope for the future.

FROM THE RIGHT REVEREND THE MODERATOR.

"Dear Friends,

The evening of December 16th, 1935 will remain in memory to the end of my days. Memorable to me, it was doubtless so to you also. Bitterly cold though the night was, there was the warmth of human kindness and Christian fellowship which made one oblivious to the enveloping frost and fog. Would that I could have seen the place of your habitation in the light of day, but in the light of your countenances there was that which made me feel that you had already found a homeland in a far country. History was made, not too often to be repeated we hope, in the dedication of your beautiful Hall Church that night, for never before has the Church of Scotland provided for such as were transported as you were from your "native heath." In the new dedicated Church, with the forms of worship to which you have been accustomed, you will always be able to "sing the Lord's song in a strange land," while in the fellowship of the Church you will find a true and lasting bond of union in "the excellency of the Knowledge of Christ Jesus." It was good to find in the neighbouring hall the same night that youth has a large place in your regard, and no more pleasing sight could have met one's eyes than the large assemblage there of the Boys' Brigade and the Girl Guides, all so evidently eager to play their part in the life of the Church and of the community. It all reflects most creditably upon your Minister, to whom and to all who assist him, all loyalty is due and will doubtless be given in full measure.

MARSHALL B. LANG."

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESBYTERY OF LONDON.

"The Dedication of this building marks a new epoch in the history of the Presbytery of London, for there has been no addition to the number of the charges within the bounds for over 30 years. This new enterprise, therefore, has been a matter of the deepest concern to the Presbytery, and it has watched the growth and development of the work in this place with prayerful interest.

The Church of Scotland has always sought to minister to the spiritual needs of her sons and daughters who have gone "furth of Scotland" by helping them to provide such centres as this where they may maintain the Faith and Worship of their fathers.

The work in many of these churches has often been difficult, especially in its earlier stages, where the task of gathering a congregation from a scattered area had first to be undertaken. Here, however, the congregation is already on the spot and gathered round the very doors of the building. Experience has shown the tremendous value, spiritually and in other ways, these centres of congregational life have been, not only to those who regularly worshipped in them, but to countless others who have been but sojourners in a strange land.

The Presbytery would like to congratulate the Reverend A. D. Macdonald and those who are co-operating with him on the rapid progress which has been made. It is just a year and nine months since the matter was first dealt with by the Presbytery, and in that short period the work has been consolidated to a remarkable degree. There are evidences of vigorous activity and life inspired by a spirit of loyalty and devotion worthy of the best traditions of the Scottish Church.

It is the Presbytery's earnest prayer that the Divine blessing may rest on the work of the Kingdom and on all those who are united in the fellowship of Christian service in this place.

JOSEPH B. MOFFETT."

MESSAGE FROM THE HOME MISSION COMMITTEE.

"The Home Mission Committee of the Church of Scotland shares with the Scots people at Corby in the satisfaction of having a building set apart for the religious interests of the community. The Committee is glad to have been of service in the establishment of the new congregation and will ever watch its progress and development with kindly interest. What the future holds out for it is a matter which rests entirely upon its members. It is far from likely that they will fail in any service required of a Scots congregation. Though outwith Scotland their dependance and responsibility toward the Church of their fathers are in the meantime real and vital.

The good wishes of the Committee are with the minister and people at this time and its prayers will ever be that in fidelity and service to Christ, the Head of the Church, they may continue to grow in grace and in favour with God and with man.

ARTHUR H. DUNNETT."

FROM THE PRESBYTERY OF HAMILTON SCOTLAND.

CHARLES CAMPBELL, Joint Presbytery Clerk.

"We learn with genuine pleasure that your new Hall-Church if that is how you designate it, is to be formally opened on Monday evening, the 16th of December, by the Right Reverend Marshall B. Lang, T.D., D.D., Moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland and we hereby desire to send you our most cordial greetings and congratulations.

We have heard that you have a beautiful Hall, an interim Church, which has been in use for some time and we have also heard that you are a substantial and growing congregation and being effectively organised, particularly in all that concerns the young life of the congregation, under the enthusiastic leadership of your Minister, the Rev. A. D. Macdonald, M.A., who this year succeeded the Rev. C. M. Macleroy, B.D. under whose ministry the congregation took form.

We are aware that you have had the guidance and support of the Home Mission Committee of the Church of Scotland, and the counsel and very practical help of the Presbytery of London. And last but not least, we have learned with delight of the gracious hospitality you have received, as a worshipping and working congregation, from the Church of England, through the Rector, who bears a name that is highly honoured in Scotland. We also believe that you and we owe not a little to Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds in connection with the site and other matters. And what shall we say more, but that, if there are things about Corby that we do not know, we can and will learn in due course.

The Presbytery of Hamilton, from which so many of you have come, has followed with solicitous interest the whole course of developments at Corby and it is with genuine regret that owing to the shortness of time since your final arrangements became known, it has not been found practicable to send a formal deputation on so important an occasion. The Presbytery met as usual on the first Tuesday of December and we who sign this are taking the responsibility which in view of our knowledge is a right one, of congratulating on behalf of the Presbytery of Hamilton, all who have had part and lot in bringing the cause we all have at heart so far on the way to fulfilment and of expressing along with you our common sense of gratitude to all who are taking part in the happy and, as we believe, auspicious opening ceremony.

When all is said and done the success is in large measure your own, but that cannot prevent us taking pride in it and you.

We are confident that you will show that you are faithful to the Scottish tradition of love and loyalty to the Church: that you are good-natured and responsible citizens, friendly and consistent Churchmen. And may God bless you and make you a blessing.

Charles Campbell, Presbytery Clerk.
John Muirhead, Presbytery Clerk."

MESSAGES FROM FELLOW SCOTS IN THE DISTRICT. Kettering and District Caledonian Society.

"The members of our Society view with much pleasure the successful efforts of the Corby Scots and hope their building will in some measure assist in supplying the needs of the people. The Scottish community are to be congratulated on the achievement attained by the erection of this Church-Hall.
D. W. Allison, President."

Loughborough Scottish Association.

"I again say that the Dedication of the Scots' Church" will represent a milestone in the lives of many of us, and also in the history of the newly-formed Corby Unit of the Church of Scotland."

Geo. Macbriar, President.

From the County Medical Officer.

"I think that Scots are the best settlers in the world. Nevertheless it is a help, and not a hindrance to them, to abide by their own Church and their own way of life. There is nothing exclusive about their religion; it is plain, simple and honest like the people. That is one reason why the Scots fit so easily into a new environment; and another is that they can combine a fervent loyalty to their homeland with an equanimity and practical common sense which makes contacts easy with strangers. I feel sure that the friendly invaders of Corby will maintain these qualities, and create a town notable for its "order and good government."

James M. Mackintosh.

OUR ORGANISATIONS.

THE SENIOR CHOIR.

The Choir has been one of the greatest assets we have in this Church, for a large and enthusiastic band of singers ably conducted by Mr. Jack Smith lead the singing in such a way as to make praise a feature of our Service. A number of local Churches have invited concerts from our Choir, and in this way we are able to do good in the district and at the same time enhance our reputation. Our biggest effort has been the production of "Olivet to Calvary," but Easter Sunday saw the Choir in old surroundings—the West Church, Bell-shill—a memorable visit that is likely to be repeated. Mr. Sam Muir is now official organist. Previously we were much indebted to Mrs. Wallace who gave frequent voluntary assistance at the organ.

The Choir

THE JUNIOR CHOIR.

Under Mr. Coates this choir enrolled 70 members in April. They lead the Morning Praise, and are attempting a Cantata this year in aid of the Building Fund.

SENIOR SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Sunday morning of 2nd July, 1934 will ever be a fond memory in the minds of fifteen little boys and girls who, although taken away from their accustomed Church, were to be gathered together again and cared for by the Parent Church. As this band of Pioneers got bound together in friendship their influence was soon felt, with the result that today our members are well over one hundred, and every Sunday brings along more fresh faces.

Having now the use of our own Hall it is now possible to give class instructions, and each class is under the care of a competent teacher whose sole object is to train the children in the Knowledge of Christ so that they may be fitted to carry that knowledge into everyday life.

Thanks are due to the undernoted teachers who have so courageously come forward and given their services at a time when the Church was greatly in need of assistance:—

Miss May Wilson
Miss Dickson
Mr. Wm. Rollo
Mrs. Robert Jamieson
Mr. Wm. Gamble
Mr. John Pollock

William Jamieson,
Superintendent.

THE PRIMARY.

An up-to-date Primary Department is the sine qua non of any Church these days. Under Mrs. Hewitt and her helpers over 100 children assemble each week and receive Christian education according to the best modern methods. Parents are welcomed and are urged to take advantage of invitations to come along and "see for themselves" one of the most thriving and promising organisations.

THE WOMEN'S GUILD.

President: Mrs. Macdonald.

Vice-President: Mrs. Wallace.

Secretary: Mrs. Vickers. Treasurer: Mrs. Jack.

Convenor of Work Party: Mrs. Baxter.

The Women's Guild is our oldest organisation. Beginning last Winter with fresh vigour its membership rose from 54 to 180 in four months. A friendly meeting, at which one can be sure of a varied programme. "For God, For Ourselves, For Others"—this slogan determines the order viz.: Worship, Tea (and talk!), Service. On the first Tuesdays we have our President's talk, the second "Outside" speakers, third "local speakers," fourth "devotional." A welcome Committee and District Visitors ensure the friendly spirit of the Guild.

The Work Party was founded in September as a separate Branch and under Mrs. Baxter has proved most successful and most unique! Two days before the Dedication they held a Sale of Work, raising over £90.

The Women's Guild

As a result the Guild has been able to present the Church with a large donation, a piano, 300 cups and saucers and a Baptismal Font.

THE GIRLS' GUILDRY.

Guardian: Mrs. Hewitt.

Maids of Honor: Mrs. Spiers and Miss Gilmour.

The foundation of this company was the sensation of Corby, for a few weeks after their inauguration in September they paraded in uniform over 100 strong! Graded according to age into Rosebuds Juniors and Seniors, the girls receive instruction in all that will help them to "become wise unto that which is good."

As in the case of all our organisations, Christ takes first place, and the ideal of Church membership is constantly set before them.

THE BOYS' BRIGADE.

Captain:

Lieutenants:

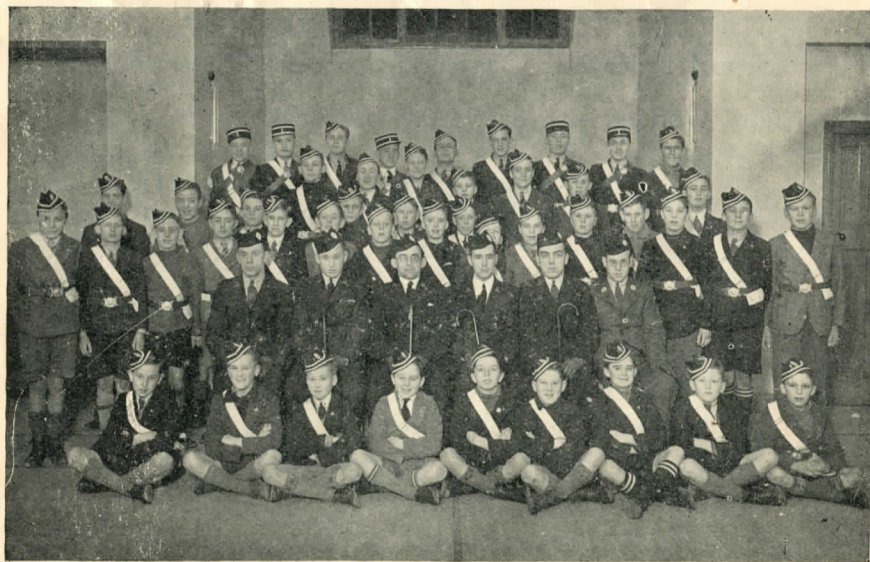

Andrew M. Dickson, James L. Haggarty, Robert McCann Wallace, Eric Mills and Peter M. Bell.

Warrant Officer: John Wallace.

Chaplain: Rev. Allan D. Macdonald.

Staff Sergeants: John Hanlon and Ian Reid.

"The object of the Brigade shall be the advancement of Christ's Kingdom among Boys and the promotion of habits of Obedience, Reverence, Discipline, Self-respect, and all that tends towards a true Christian Manliness." Extract from the Constitution.

The Boys' Brigade

Founded in September 1935 our company (1st Corby) met with immediate success. The membership of our company at present is 53 Boys, 2 Staff Sergeants, and 2 Warrant Officers and 5 Officers many of whom have been transferred from the home companies and are renewing their interest in this great youthful movement.

THE LIFE BOYS.

Leader: Mr. S. Stewart.

Secretary: Mr. McDougal.

Assistants: Mr. S. Muir and Mr. Purdie.

In March 1935 the Life Boys were founded and enrolled over 40 boys. This organisation is junior to the Boys' Brigade and is developing along very promising lines.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY.

Founded in September the Young People's Society immediately enrolled 50 members. We have now a Badminton Section and a Dramatic Section. The Social side of our activities is becoming famous. The Evening Service on the first Sunday of each month is our "Own" but we are always there or thereabouts. Over 30 of our members have joined the Church at Corby.

Any young people who are "finding their feet in Corby" are invited to join us.

THE BROTHERHOOD.

In September Mr. A. A. Dick, J.P., President of the Bell-shill Brotherhood accepted Mr. Macdonald's invitation to open the Corby Brotherhood in Lloyd's Cinema. With number rising at times to over 100 we are sure this meeting has come to stay. It supplements the work of the Churches by inviting good speakers each Sunday and we have had some remarkable addresses from a varied panel of speakers, noticeably among whom rank our Member of Parliament, a Scots Director of Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds, and a Scots Director from the neighbouring county.

The meeting is under the Chairmanship of the Rev. A. D. Macdonald, ably supported by our enthusiastic Secretary, Mr. Rollo, our Musical Director, Mr. Jack Smith, our Pianist, Mr. Muir, and a large committee.

It was with deep regret that we heard of the death of Mr. Dick this summer. A message of sympathy was sent to his dependants from the Brotherhood in which he was so much interested.

"STILL GROWING."

The Dedication Service was followed by a visit from Dr. Fleming on December 22nd when the attendance exceeded any other we have had on Sunday mornings, despite our increase in Membership.

Our First Communion in the new Hall provided moving services and over 200 gathered round the Lord's Table. Our new Kirk Session discharged their duties with a fine sense of their spiritual office.

Then followed the foundation of the Life Boys, and a month later the Junior Choir.

The Freewill Offering envelope scheme was introduced on July 1st and has more than doubled our income, even in the Summer months.

At the same time the Presbytery Appeal was issued for £10,000 towards the cost of a permanent Church and suite of Halls. Great enthusiasm and hard work by the Presbytery give promise of remarkable results. The Appeal has been signed by the following:—Daniel Lamont, Moderator of the General Assembly; Marshall B. Lang, Moderator of the General Assembly, 1935; Archibald Flemming, Moderator of the Presbytery of the Synod in England; Joseph Moffett, Clerk to the Presbytery of London; Ian Gillian, Convenor of the Corby Appeal Committee; A. D. Macdonald, Minister at Corby; Kinnaird, Lord High Commissioner to the General Assembly, 1936; Tweedsmuir, Lord High Commissioner to the General Assembly, 1933, 1934; Iain Colquhoun of Luss, Lord High Commissioner to the General Assembly, 1932; James Brown, Lord High Commissioner to the General Assembly 1924, 1930, 1931; Aberdeen; Clydesdale; Hugh Turnbull, Commissioner, City of London Police; William Whitelaw. Donations are sent to Dr. Fleming, 12 Beaufot Gardens.

Next month we hope to publish details about our local effort.

The Winter has brought renewed enthusiasm to our Services. From 168 members a year ago we have over 500 this Communion. We are beginning a Crèche, where mothers may leave their babies during the Women's Services. Mrs. Macdonald is starting a class in Children's Dancing. Here is
